

Peter Waite's “Thresholds” at Winston Wächter.

Opening on January 17th, 2018 at Winston Wächter in Seattle, Washington is the brilliant looking solo exhibition from artist Peter Waite of new paintings entitled “Thresholds.”

Throughout his career Waite has focused on memory, specific times and places, and how those memories shift when merged with our emotional relationship to those spaces. He explores how our minds create something wholly new, and existing differently for each of us.

“Thresholds” will be on view until March 7th, 2018.
