INTRODUCING
SALLY GALL

APRIL 3rd – May 18th

Sally Gall

For forty years I have photographed the beauty and mystery of the natural world - its elemental and sometimes terrifying aspects, its silence, its persistence. To immerse viewers in a visceral and sensual contemplation of nature and our place within it, I have photographed gardens, cultivated fields, swimmers, jet contrails, the twilight zone in caves, blossoming trees, objects overhead against a dramatic field of sky, and the ground level kingdom of things that creep and crawl. I photograph with an ever-deepening appreciation for how this place shapes us, even as we shape it with our passage.
